Welcome

BirdNest provides “Data Efficiency” solutions to the water and wastewater industry. BirdNest helps you focus on reducing costs and improving customer service. We offer a simple new way of working with the data that is part of day to day operations. You start with data, but Birdnest turns it into immediately available strategic knowledge for use in managing your operations and meeting business goals.

Birdnest changes the way data is gathered, how it is turned into information, and how the information is used to cut costs, to offer more services, and more profitable services. The Birdnest solution can be implemented easily and dollar savings generated quickly.

We have great clients and we provide high value to these organizations that are in a fast-changing, competitive marketplace.

Data Efficiency

Data Efficiency means having data that is readily available, useable and reliable. Data that is convertible into maximum cost-savings and profits, by applying minimum time and resources.

Data Efficiency provides the daily ability to monitor operations and operate proactively. This means a more profitable “off-campus” workforce, and a more stable plant environment. Paper-based systems are not progressing to data efficiency. With BirdNest you can share, format, analyze and act on data that is turned into information lowering costs throughout your organization.
